Pamela Varkony is an internationally recognized speaker who has inspired people from America to Australia to Afghanistan. Pam is known for her keen insights on leadership, management, and organizational cultures. She has provided professional development strategies and motivational keynotes for organizations from the Fortune 500 to entrepreneurial start-ups to the non-profit sector.

Pam's multi-cultural, global perspective fosters new solutions and new thinking. According to one client, "Her unique ability to "connect" with her audience provides for real results; a high retention of concepts and a memorable event."

Pam's wit, style and no-nonsense approach to achieving goals will bring attendees to their feet while driving home the message that we're each responsible for our outcomes... no fairytales and no excuses.

Her "from the trenches" style can help to empower and transform your organization: Let Pam's insight and vision inspire your audience to find their own brand of success.
